He thought his own characters, Fafhrd and the Gray Mouser (here highlighted) were antidotes to the saccharine qualities of Tolkein's creations; and Ill Met in Lankhmar describes how this "pair of lone-wolf Robin Hoods" (Leiber's words, printed elsewhere) meet.

Fritz Leiber: Ill Met in Lankhmar - an infinity plus review

Though the duo made their first appearance in publication in 1939 (in the novelette "Two Sought Adventure," printed in Unknown), it was not until 1970, in the pages of The Magazine of Fantasy and Science Fiction, that readers were treated to the story of how the barbarian from Cold Corner and the thief from the mean streets first met. "Ill Met in Lankhmar" is widely considered one of Leiber's best works, an opinion supported by the fact that the novella won both a 1970 Nebula ...
